We're just weeks away from this year's Velo-city conference in Vienna and it's bound to be an inspiring few days in the Austrian capital for those of you who will be attending. If that wasn't enough, the day before it all kicks off we have the National EuroVelo Coordination Centres and Coordinators meeting - the annual get together for all those involved in developing the European cycle route network. We'll let you know how it all goes in next month's newsletter!
